Here and there at Bridge...

Making Cranberry Sauce

Students in Division 15 made cranberry sauce in our new staff room!

Students in Divisions 13 and 17 read Shi Shi Etko and talked about aspects of Indigenous practices from the book, and their connection to land and the environment. The students then engaged with the natural environment by observing, exploring and gathering naturally occurring elements to create pieces of artwork. For some inspiration, the teachers presented some example pieces by Andy Goldsworthy and identified motifs and repeating patterns that students could include in their artwork.
